What sessions count for credit?

Pre-Convention education events, such as workshops and professional development courses, are considered part of Convention for continuing education purposes, and you claim credit for them in the same way you claim for other Convention workshop sessions.

Activities that do not carry CEU credit include:

- Opening General Session
- Awards Ceremony
- Exhibits
- Cultural Night or Powwow
- Focus Forums
- Regional Caucuses

How are my CE credits calculated?

The number of credits you earn is determined by the duration of the educational sessions you attend, 0.1 CEU = 1 contact hour and 0.2 CEU = 2 contact hours

You must attend sessions in full in order to claim credit for them. You will not be allowed to claim credit for two sessions that overlap in time according to the program.

The time equivalents of each session type are:

- Workshops: Varies depending on event time
- Pre-Convention events: Varies depending on event time
- 75 minute workshops: 1 hour and 15 minutes
- 90-minute plenary sessions: 1 hour 30 minutes
- Poster Sessions
- NIEA Indigenous Empowerment and Resilience Project (blanket exercise)

Tuition

1 CEU = $35

2 CEU = $70

Credit assignment

In order to receive credit, participants must attend all sessions of the conference. After participants have completed their assignment, it should be collected. The participant is responsible for tracking their own hours of attendance and documenting the hours as defined in Assignment #1. NIEA can keep record of the assignment for reference purposes.

Assignment #1

Write a critical reflection of each workshop/seminar/course. For each please:

1. Include the title of the session, date, time spent in the session (total hours), and presenter information.
2. Describe the content of the session and how the session impacted your understanding of the topics presented.
3. Critical reflections must be typed. For each workshop, you should write two to three paragraphs. The final document for Assignment #1 should be two to four pages, depending on the number of sessions attended.
