

Understanding the Impact of Historical Trauma and Boarding Schools

Exploring Trauma-Informed Solutions

The National Indian Education Association (NIEA) is offering a free, one-day training on historical trauma and boarding schools and how this history impacts our Native students today. During this training, educators will explore how multiple traumatic experiences can lead to irregular brain development and impaired learning and socio-emotional abilities. Trainers will provide attendees with strategies to support students and improve learning processes.

A free continental breakfast and lunch will be provided for attendees.

Space for this training is limited. To register, please contact Lucyann Harjo at (405) 366-5809. Registration closes on March 23rd.

DATE: Wednesday, March 28th 2018

TIME: 8:30 PM– 4:30 PM

LOCATION: Oklahoma City Muscogee Association
4111 N Lincoln Blvd.
Oklahoma City, OK 73105

HOSTED BY: National Indian Education Association (NIEA) and the Oklahoma Council on Indian Education (OCIE)

www.niea.org

| niea@niea.org

| 202-544-7290

 @WereNIEA

 @NIEAFanPage

 niea1969

